He is a frequent guest in Asia where he has conducted the Malaysian Philharmonic Orchestra, Shanghai Philharmonic Orchestra, Shenzhen Symphony Orchestra and Hong Kong Sinfonietta with whom he has built a strong relationship since his successful debut in 2011. He made his debut in Japan with the Orchestra Ensemble Kanazawa in 2016.

In 2000 Crudele founded Orchestra UniMi in Milan, which under his tenure as Music Director has become one of the most respected orchestras in the city. Keen to nurture young musicians, Crudele has devoted his time to working with young artists; and collaboration with youth orchestras is still one of his priorities. From 2003 to 2006, he was a regular guest of the Orchestra dell'Accademia Teatro alla Scala, and in more recent years he has established a collaboration with the Jeune Orchestre International de Monte-Carlo and the Orchesterzentrum NRW in Germany.

He made his highly acclaimed Opera debut with Rossini's "Il Signor Bruschino".

Crudele was born in Milan. He studied violin and composition at the Conservatorio di Milano. His education as a conductor started at an early age. From 1999 to 2003, he studied under Gianluigi Gelmetti at the Accademia Musicale Chigiana in Siena where he was awarded several scholarships and the most prestigious Diploma d'Onore. He received further instruction from Christoph von Dohnányi and Sir Simon Rattle. Crudele currently lives in Berlin.
